Statement from the Director

As we look ahead to 2026, the University of North Georgia Press is building on a year of remarkable growth, recognition, and impact. Our upcoming list reflects our continued commitment to scholarship, accessibility, and stories that matter.

We closed 2025 with four strong releases. Dystopian Discord: Cold War Politics and Cambodian Communism by B.D. Mowell offers a rigorously researched and peer-reviewed examination of conflict within the Southeast Asian communist bloc during the Cold War. Our AUSA Book Partner titles expanded military history scholarship with Daniel K. Elder's NCO School: How the Vietnam-era NCO Candidate Course Shaped the Modern Army and Colonel Joseph D. Celeski's Green Berets, Clan Militia, and Blue Helmets: The Illustrated History of Army Special Forces in Somalia. We also released The Basics of American Government, Fifth Edition, edited by Carl D. Cavalli, updated to include the most recent presidential election results.

Our authors' achievements in 2025 further underscore the strength of our list. Cherokee History and the Spirit Family by James Neil Barnes earned Second Place Grand Prize in Nonfiction at the Next Generation Indie Book Awards and is now available at the Smithsonian National Museum of the American Indian. Pedagogy Opened: Innovative Theory and Practice, edited by Tiffani Tijerina, received Open Education Global's 2025 Open Education Award for Excellence in the Open Practices category.

We carry that momentum into 2026 with new titles, new editions, and expanded formats designed to serve students, educators, and general readers alike. Our open textbook program continues to grow with the release of Introduction to Public Administration, alongside new editions of History in the Making: A History of the People of the United States of America to 1877 and Principles of Macroeconomic Literacy. As always, our open textbooks remain freely available in digital, accessible formats through our website.

Our 2026 creative nonfiction list offers compelling personal narratives with broad appeal. Splintered Shadows: Recapturing a French Résistante by Marilyn F. Moriarty follows an adoptive daughter's search for her mother's hidden past, uncovering a courageous life shaped by resistance, imprisonment, and survival in Nazi-occupied France. A Route of Surprises by Larry R. Jordan, an AUSA Book Partner title, traces one man's journey from post-World War II segregation to senior military leadership, offering an inspiring and candid memoir of perseverance.

Accessibility remains central to our mission. In 2026, we begin a focused initiative to expand accessible formats across our backlist, starting with ebook editions of Swamped: Interdisciplinary Teaching Approaches for New Faculty and Cherokee History and the Spirit Family. We are also launching select audiobooks, including Cherokee History and the Spirit Family and Introduction to Art: Design, Context, and Meaning, edited by Pamela J. Sachant.

We are proud of the momentum behind our list and energized by the year ahead. We invite you to read and learn with us as we continue to bring impactful, award-winning, and forward-thinking titles.

DYSTOPIAN DISCORD: COLD WAR POLITICS AND CAMBODIAN COMMUNISM

B.D. Mowell

“Meticulous and unsparing, Dystopian Discord clarifies the Khmer Rouge’s crimes and the Cold War context that enabled them—vital reading on the genocide and its long shadow.”

—Jeff Kamsuth Lam, Cambodian-American Activist/Advocate

ISBN: 978-1-959203-13-1

Paperback: $29.99

6 x 9 | 336 pp | Full Color

Political Science, Military History

Dystopian Discord: Cold War Politics and Cambodian Communism delves into the complex interplay between ideology, nationalism, and conflict within communist regimes. Focusing on the Khmer Rouge’s brutal rise and subsequent internal unrest within Cambodia, this book provides a groundbreaking analysis of how ethnic nationalism and xenophobia fueled one of the most catastrophic regimes in history.

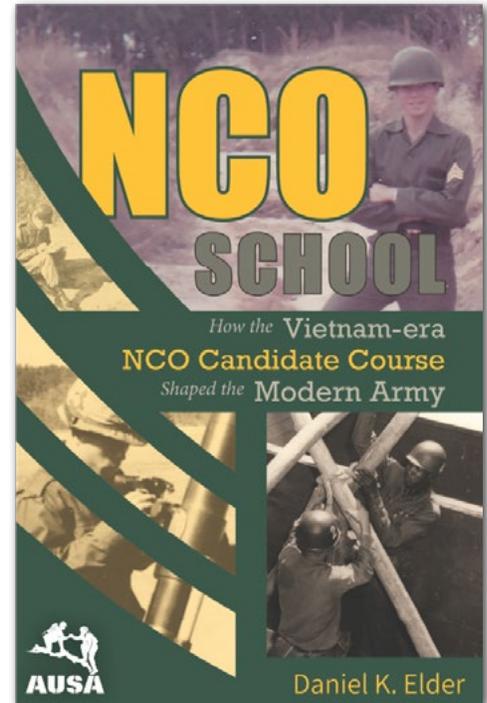

Drawing from a wealth of primary and secondary sources, Dystopian Discord explores the internal and geopolitical tensions that led to war among communist states in Southeast Asia during the Cold War, challenging the oversimplified narrative of a unified communist bloc. Ideal for scholars of military studies, political science, and international relations, this work offers critical insights into the darker facets of revolutionary movements and the enduring impact of ideological extremism on global conflict.

NCO SCHOOL: HOW THE VIETNAM-ERA NCO CANDIDATE COURSE SHAPED THE MODERN ARMY

Daniel K. Elder

“This book should be mandatory reading in both the officer and NCO education system.”

Military History, Leadership

AUSA Book Program

Discover the untold story of the Noncommissioned Officer Candidate Course (NCOCC), a transformative yet overlooked chapter in U.S. Army history. NCO School: How the Vietnam-era NCO Candidate Course Shaped the Modern Army unveils the rigorous training and complex legacy of a program designed to rapidly produce combat-ready leaders during the Vietnam War. Often dismissed as “Shake ‘n Bake” NCOs, these men faced harsh scrutiny and intense pressure despite their vital role in military operations.

Drawing from firsthand accounts, historical records, and personal reflections, author Daniel K. Elder offers a comprehensive narrative that not only honors those who served but also provides critical insights for today’s military scholars and practitioners. This book is a must-read for anyone interested in military studies, leadership development, and the hidden stories of those who led from the frontlines.

Military History

AUSA Book Program

The story of the U.S. Army Special Forces (Green Berets) who served in Somalia from 1992–1995 supporting the United Nations Peacekeeping mission to Somalia (UNOSOM) is one of the least known chapters of Special Forces history. While the world focused on the hunt for Aideed and the tragic battle fought in Mogadishu in 1993, Army Special Forces conducted a variety of special warfare missions throughout the country—before, during and after the battle between Army Rangers and Aideed’s forces in the city. Although a peacekeeping mission, Army Special Forces operatives often found themselves in combat with clan irregulars. This story includes rare interviews and pictures which will add to the understanding of the irregular war which Special Forces operators faced.

THE BASICS OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT: FIFTH EDITION

Edited by Carl D. Cavalli

Core concepts in American government are developed through instruction, case studies, and civic engagement.

ISBN: 978-1-959203-11-7

Paperback: $34.99

6 x 9 | 332 pp | B/W

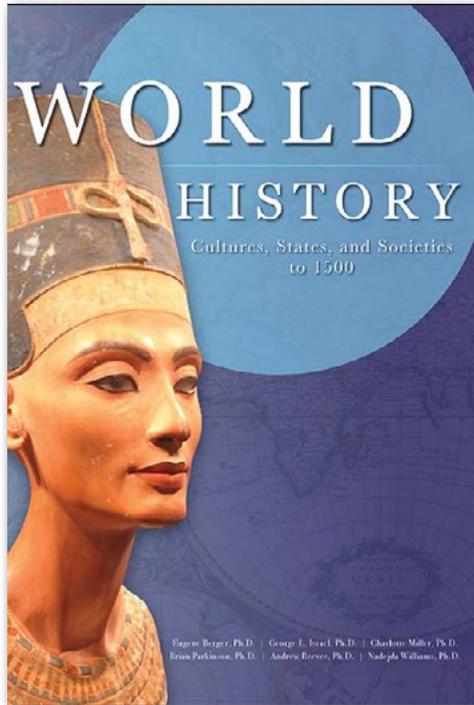

Open Access Textbook, Political Science

New Edition!

The Basics of American Government offers a comprehensive overview of the American political system for students taking introductory courses in American national government. Combining the strengths of both a traditional textbook and a reader, this peer-reviewed book pairs core instructional content with original scholarship as case studies that reinforce key concepts. Chapters also incorporate civic-engagement type exercises and discussion questions designed to encourage critical thinking and active participation in the political process.

This updated edition directly addresses the outcome of the 2024 United States presidential election.

Open Education, Pedagogy

Open pedagogy is teaching and learning practices and environments that promote equity, collaboration, and innovation and invite students to create and share knowledge with future publics, often in association with the use of open educational resources (OER).

Pedagogy Opened: Innovative Theory and Practice seeks to advance the study of open and innovative pedagogy through the belief that their impact and reach are increased by research on and analysis of the theory and practice of open pedagogy across the disciplines and via multiple modalities. In this first volume of Pedagogy Opened, seven author teams explore and share their work with open pedagogy in a variety of ways, including through research, practice, and autoethnographic reflection.

INTRODUCTION TO PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Edited by Carl J. Gabrini and Grace Adams-Square

Understanding public administration begins with how governments organize authority, manage resources, and serve the public.

ISBN: 978-1-959203-16-2

Paperback: $24.99

8.5 x 11 | 132 pp | Full Color

Open Access Textbook, Political Science

Coming March 2026

Introduction to Public Administration provides a clear, accessible introduction to the principles, structures, and challenges of public administration in the United States. Designed for students encountering the field for the first time, the textbook examines how government agencies operate, how public decisions are made, and how administrators balance legal, political, managerial, and ethical responsibilities.

Blending foundational theory with contemporary examples, the book explores core topics including constitutional and legislative foundations, bureaucracy, public sector decision-making, ethics, human capital management, public finance, and policy implementation. It emphasizes transparency, accountability, and the growing complexity of public leadership. As an open access, affordable resource, Introduction to Public Administration offers a practical and engaging foundation for students preparing for careers in public service or further study in public affairs.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING: A HISTORY OF THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA TO 1877, SECOND EDITION

*Catherine Locks, Sara K. Mergel,
Pamela Thomas Roseman, Tamara Spike*

U.S. history comes into focus through the lived experiences and perspectives of the people who shaped the nation.

New Edition!

Coming April 2026

History in the Making: A History of the People of the United States of America to 1877 offers a people-centered introduction to U.S. history from before European contact through Reconstruction. Designed for undergraduate survey courses, the textbook examines the nation's past by focusing on the people and their histories rather than events alone.

This second edition updates the original text with the intention of providing a more comprehensive overview of all peoples involved in the nation's history. Building on the first edition's foundation, History in the Making emphasizes critical thinking through structured chapter features that support student learning and engagement. As an open access textbook, it provides an accessible and academically rigorous resource for students and instructors alike.

PRINCIPLES OF MACROECONOMIC LITERACY: SECOND EDITION

John Scott

Core macroeconomic concepts are introduced through short narratives and applied examples.

8.5 x 11 | 180 pp | Full Color

Economics, Business

New Edition!

Coming June 2026

Principles of Macroeconomic Literacy: Second Edition introduces core macroeconomic concepts by grounding theory in questions of value, cost, incentives, and real-world decision-making. Designed for students new to economics, the textbook draws on classical and modern economic thought to examine how markets function, how policies are formed, and why economic outcomes often differ from policy intentions.

Using accessible explanations and short fictional narratives, the book explores topics such as credit markets, economic planning, money, technology, trade, government intervention, and fiscal policy. Rather than positioning students as abstract policy-makers, Principles of Macroeconomic Literacy emphasizes how macroeconomic forces shape everyday economic life. This updated edition includes new examples that further support student understanding and engagement.

SPLINTERED SHADOWS: RECAPTURING A FRENCH RÉSISTANTE

Marilyn F. Moriarty

Some stories are passed down in whispers. Others must be chased through the shadows.

Coming August 2026

Splintered Shadows: Recapturing a French Résistante is an unconventional adoptee-search narrative told against the backdrop of World War II. After the War, Andrée married an American serviceman, left France, and carried the story of her earlier life to her grave. Her adoptive daughter, Marilyn Moriarty, was left with only fragments—photographs, names, and unanswered questions that hinted at a past far more complicated than it appeared.

Moriarty's search begins with a single name on a 1945 photograph and leads her across Europe, uncovering a hidden life shaped by secrecy, imprisonment, and dangerous choices in Nazi-occupied France. As she pieces together her mother's personal and political double lives, the narrative explores pressures faced by women under occupation and the lasting consequences of histories deliberately concealed. Moving between past and present, Splintered Shadows is a powerful story of discovery, reckoning, and making peace with a past inherited but never fully known.

Nonfiction, Military

AUSA Book Program

Coming September 2026

A Route of Surprises is the memoir of a Black Army officer whose life took an improbable path from the segregated Midwest of the post–World War II era to the highest levels of military leadership. Growing up amid racial barriers and expectations that constrained African American life in the era, he would go on to serve thirty-five years in the U.S. Army, retiring as a three-star general.

His story unfolds through moments of challenge, discovery, and unexpected connection. As one of the few African American cadets at West Point in the 1960s—and later as an officer who often served as a racial minority—Lt. Gen. Larry R. Jordan navigated a profession that tested both resolve and character. Interwoven with his own experiences is the revelation of a sex-generation family legacy of African American military service, beginning with the Civil War. Brief vignettes, at times humorous and at times deeply moving, capture the intersections of military life, family, and mentorship. A Route of Surprises is a reflective memoir about leadership, perseverance, and the unforeseen turns that shape a life in service.

COMPACT ANTHOLOGY OF WORLD LITERATURE: PARTS 1, 2, AND 3

Compact Anthology of World Literature presents influential European and non-Western texts with contextual introductions, offering students foundations for understanding literature across cultures and time periods.

A world literature class may be the first place that some students have encountered European works, let alone non-Western texts. The emphasis in this anthology, therefore, is on non-Western and European works, with only the British authors who were the most influential to European and non-Western authors (such as Shakespeare, whose works have influenced authors around the world to the present day).

These texts have been chosen with the idea that they can be compared and contrasted, using common themes. While cultural expectations are not universal, many of the themes found in these works are.

About Us

The University of North Georgia (UNG) Press, a scholarly, peer-reviewed press, is an extension of our sponsoring university, the University of North Georgia. Our primary function is to promote education and research with a special emphasis on innovative scholarship and pedagogy. Through our partnership with the University System of Georgia (USG), Affordable Learning Georgia (ALG), and eCore, the UNG Press is the leading university press in the state for Open Educational Resources (OER) and Open Textbooks.

Our structure comprises a Faculty Acquisitions Advisory Board with scholars across all disciplines. Our partnership with UNG provides a service-learning environment for students to gain real life experiences in publishing and marketing. These learning opportunities comprise (1) course work tied to UNG Press projects, and (2) internships. Students are immersed in actual book production, from acquisitions to editing to layout and design.
